空气中弥漫着咖啡和新鲜面包的香味，摊位上摆满了五颜六色的蔬菜和诱人的奶酪，还有友好交谈的嘈杂声，农贸市场就是一场感官盛宴。农贸市场还提供了一个机会，让你可以与负责生产或种植食物的人交谈，支持当地经济，挑选新鲜的时令农产品——可以同时做所有这些事情。

农贸市场通常每周或每月举办一次，大多数设有户外摊位，让农民或生产者可以直接向顾客出售他们的食物。市集的规模和举办频率因季节而异，这取决于该地区的农事历，你可能会在一年中的不同时间发现不同的农产品在出售。通过省去中间商，农民可以从他们的农产品中获得更多的利润。购买者也从中受益，他们能清楚地看到自己的钱都花到了哪儿，付给了谁。

Section IV Writing

Dear Jack,

As for the survey on the protection of old houses in the ancient town, I'd like to put forward my plan. Our goal is to assess the current state of the town, identify potential risks, and suggest measures for conservation. Therefore, we are supposed to visit the town ourselves to observe the present situation of the town and listen to what the local experts and residents say about it. Secondly, we can design some online questionnaires to acquire people's opinions on the preservation of old houses in the town. That's my plan. I would like to know what you think about it. Looking forward to your reply soon.

Best wishes!

Sincerely yours,

Li Ming

Part B

The chart shows a survey on the main gains of students in the labor practice courses at a university. The result of the survey reveals the labor practice courses bring tangible benefits to students' overall development.

Firstly, the acquisition of relevant knowledge is the biggest advantage as 91.3% of the students listed it as what they have gained. Secondly, a notable improvement in hands-on skills stands out as a key achievement, with 84.8% of the students saying they have gained such a benefit. In addition, the students surveyed believe they have enhanced the capacity for cooperation by participating in the courses and feel happy during the class.

In my opinion, students' engagement in the labor practice courses holds immense significance. These hands-on experiences go beyond theoretical understanding and foster practical skills. This practical exposure not only deepens students' subject understanding but also prepares them for future research and professional challenges. Universities should have more labor practice courses.
